Narrative

On February 1, 2007 at approximately 12:23 AM, a call was made to 911 regarding a missing teenager, Max Auger. Police were dispatched to 292 Albert St, where Max had been living with his foster parents Mason and Margaret Fletcher. Upon arrival, officers collected statements from the Fletchers.

WITNESS STATEMENT OF MASON FLETCHER:

Max must have snuck out the window last night! Geez, that boy is no good. Always causing trouble for us. Bring him back to us, will ya, officer? That boy will cause nothing but trouble for everyone out on his own.

WITNESS STATEMENT OF MARGARET FLETCHER:

Oh my poor boy! He must have been gone for days, no, maybe even weeks now! He can't survive out there on his own, please officer, bring him back to us! Oh my poor Max...

Officers were granted consent to perform a search of the Fletchers residence, which yielded no clues in identifying a motive or destination.

In the subsequent search effort, no additional information about Max's whereabouts was discovered within 30 days. In order to conserve police resources, the search effort has been terminated, and this case will be closed indefinitely.

History

According to TPD records, officers have previously responded multiple times to the Fletcher household and other incidents involving Max.

Date	Incident Type	Role	Status
03/06/2005	Domestic Violence	Caller	Pending
06/15/2006	Disorderly Conduct	Suspect	Convicted
07/03/2006	Domestic Abuse	Caller	Dismissed
09/21/2006	Domestic Violence	Suspect	Convicted
01/02/2007	Vandalism	Suspect	Convicted

Due to an extensive criminal history, Max should be considered a dangerous person. If spotted, citizens should immediately call 911 and keep at least 100 steps away. Officers are advised to exercise extreme caution if contact is made.
